

Labour Disputes

The Toronto Police Service liaison team assists communication between police and community groups during events, demonstrations, and labour disputes for everyone's safety.

We respect your right to peaceful assembly. We work with organizers to address safety concerns before and during events. Communication and de-escalation are our top priorities.

The liaison team can assist you with:

- Demonstration safety and event planning considerations
- Legal resources
- Police liaison contacts

Scan for more information on demonstrations and police contacts.

tps.to/labour-disputes

Contact us: 416.808.4938